

World Congress on Complementary and Alternative Medicine

December 02-03, 2019 | Dubai, UAE

Homeopathy: As an integrable healthcare model

Sreevals Menon

Global Homeopathy Foundation, India

Introduction: CAM in healthcare and its relevance in present day challenges.

Defining the space of Homeopathy in Healthcare.

Need of Integrative models for present day healthcare.

Discussion: Homeopathy as a personalized medicine with mind-body engagement which penetrates into genetics and modulates by epigenetic changes.

Renewed understanding on failing conventional medicines in NCD's, drug-resistance and advanced organ specializations, correction and replacement techniques in the light of its evolution from the past - Cartesian philosophy and psycho-physical parallelism.

Is pharma and conventional medical doctors to be labelled the real culprits or what was indoctrinated into them pushing them across centuries drifting from mind-body relationship and towards organ specialization and the menace that resulted.

Mentions & slides on research publications on examples of integrative healthcare models in research in homeopathy.

Engaging with new paradigms on integrating successful areas in healthcare converging priorities into each other.

Positioning worlds second most popular healthcare in the space of personalized medicine well integrating with successful models in conventional healthcare and their capabilities in managing acute states, emergencies, trauma and in critical care.

Developing protocols for integrative healthcare with homeopathy at the focus it deserves.

Creating global sensitization across CAM on personalized healthcare front and as integrable models in healthcare.

Conclusion: Positioning Homeopathy and its understanding based on the groundbreaking researches in the past decade related to genetics, pharmaco-chemistry, pathogenic trials, cell-line studies, nano-science, molecular-biology, high-dilution research and many more.

The future angles of research in Homeopathy.

Biography

Sreevals Menon is a Doctor, Postgraduate of Homeopathy, Researcher, Public Speaker and also at international homeopathic events in Southeast, Africa, Europe & Mid-east. He is currently Executive Member of FIHA (Federation of Indian Homeopathic Associations) and Promoter of Homeopathy.

sreevalsm@gmail.com