

Screening for substance abuse: Unraveling addiction 101

Ted Izydor

Licensed Mental Health/Addiction Counselor, United States

Abstract

In this interactive and informative workshop participant will learn the basics of addiction and how to screen for it with clients. The primary learning objectives of this workshop are as follows: 1. Key theories of addiction 2. The top 6 most abused substances 3. The 11 DSM-V substance abuse criteria and how to screen for these criteria with clients 4. How to do a brief substance abuse interview this workshop incorporates multimodal learning and practice so that participants can not only leave with an understanding of addiction, but with a practical addiction interview tool kit.

Conference on Public Mental Health and Neurosciences;
Webinar- December 08, 2020

\(https://mental-health.neurologyconference.com/\)

Biography:

Ted Izydor holds both a Master of Counseling Psychology and Master of Business Administration, in addition to numerous Counseling certifications. With a distinguished 20-year clinical Therapy background as a mental health and addiction counselor, Ted offers techniques, strategies and approaches that produce changes. As the founder of Full Potential Coaching and Consulting of Wisconsin, he devotes himself to sharing this knowledge and insight to people seeking more fulfilling, happier and healthier lives.

30th International Conference on Public Mental Health and Neurosciences; Webinar- December 08, 2020.

Abstract Citation:

Ted Izydor, Screening for substance abuse: Unraveling addiction 101, World Mental Health 2020, 30th International