ABSTRACT: Commitment to lifelong learning is an expectation for nursing and other health professions. Join us for a presentation on the inspiration, planning, challenges, successes, and best practices on nursing and health professions continuing education initiative at Southern New Hampshire University. This collaboration on lifelong learning opportunities is for online learners seeking non-degree offerings and stackable credentials. The occasion to acquire additional 'just in time' qualifications, which may be required as healthcare evolves, can lead to increased quality of care provided and career advancement.
